Neighbors Helping Neighbors The Power of Collaboration

You've likely heard the phrase, "It takes a village." At Crisis Control Ministry, this isn't just a saying—it's the foundation of everything we do. From the beginning, our mission has been rooted in community, compassion, and collaboration. Thanks to the support of congregations, partners, and neighbors like you, we are able to respond to urgent needs with care and dignity.

But we also know that no single organization can do it all. That's why we actively build strong partnerships with countless other ministries and nonprofits across Forsyth and Stokes Counties to ensure our neighbors receive comprehensive support.

One powerful example is our collaboration with Samaritan Ministries. While we do not offer shelter or daily meals for our unhoused neighbors, Samaritan does—and we complement their care by providing critical medications through our free pharmacy.

For those re-entering society after incarceration, we team up with Project Re-entry. While we may not specialize in re-entry services, we help by supplying nutritious food, hygiene items, and cleaning supplies—essentials that support a new start.

Most recently, we partnered with Community Care Center to serve uninsured patients in need of medications—yet another example of how shared resources multiply our impact.

These partnerships are more than logistical—they're a testament to a shared belief that everyone deserves hope, health, and dignity. By working together, we are not only meeting needs—we are building a village of support where everyone belongs.

Your Support Impacts Lives The Power of Partnership in a Life Reimagined.

After 34 years of incarceration, Levon returned to a drastically changed world, facing challenges with housing, food, transportation, and a prostate cancer diagnosis. He turned to Project Re-entry, a program offered through Goodwill Industries of NWNC, in partnership with Piedmont Triad Regional Council. Re-Entry Council Specialist, Reggie Torrence, became his advocate, helping him obtain ID, housing at the Oxford House and the essentials he needed.

Thanks to a referral, Levon visited Crisis Control Ministry's client-choice pantry, receiving two weeks of nutritious food, hygiene items, and cleaning supplies. Sunnyside Ministries provided clothing, Winston-Salem Urban League offered support, and Cycle Recycled, a Love Out Loud partner, donated a bicycle.

Levon's story is a testament to the power of collaboration among Winston-Salem nonprofits. Through compassion and partnership, he's rebuilding his life—one step at a time.

Happy Spring!

As we often say at Crisis Control Ministry (CCM), the summer work does not slow down here. Most of the people who come to CCM for assistance do not take vacations like many of the rest of us. We try hard to stock up in our food pantry, accepting donations from local farmers and grocery stores, and we continue to send appeals to donors to raise funds to support our work.

This newsletter will feature the work that we do in collaboration with other organizations. We couldn't do what we do without collaborating and working with people in places like the Department of Social Services, Financial Pathways of the Piedmont, Community Care Center, Goodwill's Project Re-entry program, the Cooperative Extension Office, local grocery stores, the Second Harvest Food Bank and dozens of other places.

Our most recent important collaboration has been with the Community Care Center. Patients from the Community Care Center will now have their prescriptions filled here in CCM's licensed pharmacy. In partnership, staff members at the Community Care Center refer patients to us who then have their prescription needs met here at CCM. It has been a true collaboration with staff members from both organizations working together to make the transition as smooth as possible.

Look for information too in our special insert to understand ways that you can help us to advocate on behalf of the issues that impact those with whom we work. Together, we can make this community a better place for all of us!

Warmest regards,

Margaret P. Elliott

Wee Care!
Cereal Drive
March 17-April 17, 2025

Thank you to our Wee neighbors!

During the month of March, more than 8,000 children at 55 schools across Forsyth County participated in the Wee Care! Cereal Drive. This is a program that not only collects cereal donations, but helps preschool and elementary school-age children learn about the importance of sharing and being a good neighbor.

Nearly 7,000 boxes of cereal were donated. That is enough to fill nearly 128,000 bowls.

Wee Care! Gift of the Month

Summer months are even more challenging for families experiencing a financial crisis. With children at home over the summer, they do not have access to free school lunches. The Wee Care! Gift of the Month helps fill our pantries with kid-friendly food items and encourages children to continue to give.

Unique Volunteer-Led Annual Fundraiser Supports Crisis Control Ministry

Since 2012, Main Street United Methodist Church of Kernersville has hosted the Spring Folly Parking Lot fundraiser to support Crisis Control Ministry. Thanks to generous support from S&R Motors and Pierce-Jefferson Funeral Home—who donate their parking lot and a large tent—the event has grown into Kernersville's largest annual volunteer-run fundraiser for Crisis Control.

Elevation Church and TROSA, the event runs six two-hour shifts, requiring 15–20 volunteers per shift. Their efforts keep the lots running smoothly and donations flowing.

This year, despite closing early due to storms, 78 volunteers contributed 168 service hours, raising an impressive $5,676. Volunteers even handed out free water to festival attendees, making the experience more enjoyable for all.

Thank you to everyone who helped make it a success. Mark your calendars to join us next year on May 1–2. Let's keep this incredible community tradition going strong!

We've received questions about how potential federal program cuts could impact our services. At the time of this printing, several bills in Congress could affect our work. This insert aims to answer those questions. If you'd like to help advocate for our clients, contact Margaret Elliott at melliott@crisiscontrol.org for ways to get involved.

FAQ: How Federal Policy Changes Could Impact Crisis Control Ministry and Our Community

Q: What's happening at the federal level that could affect North Carolinians in need?

A: Two major federal proposals—the Medicaid and SNAP provisions in the One Big Beautiful Bill Act—are advancing through the U.S. House. These changes would shift more financial responsibility to states and tighten eligibility for low-income individuals.

Medicaid Proposals

Q: What are the proposed changes to Medicaid?

A: The U.S. House Energy and Commerce Committee is proposing to:

- Require work requirements for Medicaid recipients;
- Increase documentation requirements for citizenship and immigration status;
- Reduce the federal match for Medicaid expansion (from 90% to 80%) in states offering access to undocumented immigrants; and
- Limit how states fund their share of Medicaid through provider taxes.

Q: How could this affect North Carolina?

A: These changes could reduce the number of people eligible for Medicaid and increase the financial burden on our state to provide health services.

Q: What impact could this have on Crisis Control Ministry?

A: If fewer residents qualify for Medicaid, we may see more individuals seeking help with accessing health care and prescription medications through our free pharmacy and related services.

SNAP (Food Assistance) Proposals

Q: What's being proposed for SNAP (Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program)?

A: Proposals in the U.S. House Agriculture Committee would:

- Shift 20% of SNAP costs to states like North Carolina based on "error rates";
- Raise the work requirement age from 54 to 64; and
- Eliminate SNAP eligibility for individuals who are not U.S. citizens or green card holders.

Q: What does that mean for our neighbors?

A: These changes would make it harder for older adults and non-citizens to access food assistance and could reduce the number of people who receive SNAP benefits.

Q: How would this affect Crisis Control Ministry?

A: As fewer people qualify for SNAP, we may see an increase in visits to our client-choice food pantries and more families needing help with basic food and nutrition support.

Q: What can I do?

A: Stay informed and speak up. Contact your representatives and let them know how these changes could impact vulnerable North Carolinians and the nonprofits working to support them. To locate your representatives' contact information, visit:

Help Us Serve More Neighbors Through Our Pharmacy

At Crisis Control Ministry, we believe that everyone deserves access to the medications they need to live healthy, productive lives. Last year alone, our Free Pharmacy provided 4,472 clients with 19,680 prescriptions valued at over $1.3 million — and we're just getting started.

In December 2023, North Carolina became the 40th state to expand Medicaid, opening the door for thousands of low-income adults who previously didn't qualify for health coverage. Nearly 600,000 people have enrolled in the first year, exceeding expectations and offering a lifeline to many in our community.

Our Pharmacy has stepped up to meet this expanded need. We now fill prescriptions not only for the uninsured but also for Medicaid recipients who still face barriers — like transportation issues, pharmacy access, or gaps in coverage for specific medications.

Here's why your support matters:

- We provide medications to those most in need — adults aged 19–64 earning up to 138% of the federal poverty line (about $20,782/year for a single person or $35,631/year for a family of three).
- We help people stay healthy and housed by ensuring they can afford life-saving medications instead of having to choose between prescriptions, rent, or groceries.
- We amplify the impact of Medicaid expansion by helping bridge the gaps where insurance alone isn't enough. Many of our patients also receive nourishing groceries from our Client-Choice Food Pantry as well.

While Medicaid expansion has been a success story, its future remains uncertain due to potential federal funding cuts and policy shifts. That's why local support is more crucial than ever.

We invite you to be part of this life-changing work. Your financial gift directly supports prescription medications for vulnerable neighbors — ensuring they don't fall through the cracks and helping them stay on the path to stability.

Please give today. Together, we can turn action into access and improve health in our community.
